I ran into a cricket the other day, one a little different from most of those found scrunched and toasted and dried out behind shelves and under papers around the ol' Herald.

This was a bright cricket, and very mobile, as if he had migrated from somewhere else. And, almost to disbelief, he was reading a newspaper, a miniature of what appeared to be one of those Eastern newspapers everybody has been attacking in recent years.

It must have had some interesting stories on those pages, some I'd like to read, since I've never read a newspaper that interested an erudite cricket.

This guy must have found the ol' Herald drab reading, but perhaps good eating.

So many tens of millions of his predecessors have marched through town in fall and some of them have tested file copies of the ol' Herald, and apparently liked the brand of newsprint and ink that they stayed and ate until they were unable to move.

But a cricket that reads miniature newspapers and migrates this time of year must be an interesting fellow. He is bound to enlarge biographical material on the cricket genus, beyond the legendary Jiminy Cricket, Mehetibel the Cricket, who used to move around typewriter keys.

You know, maybe that was Archie's cricket Mehetibel, wandered away from the Eastern cold, surprised that Texas cousins are frozen out, but prepared to wait things out.

Show Winners Named

By Danny Phillips, ACA

Typical Milam County Livestock Show weather ushered in the Milam County Junior Livestock Show Saturday, January 15 in Cameron.

The mercury dipped to a low of 19 degrees on show day morning, chilling the crowd but not the show spirit.

The 1972 show was billed to be the largest ever, but fell quite a bit short of early estimates because of a swine cholera quarantine that kept some 50 head of swine from entering. The final tally on the show as 118 head of livestock.

John Tomascik of Buckholts FFA walked off with the Swine show. John exhibited the Grand and Reserve Champion barrow, Grand Champion gilt and won the Swine Showmanship. Rosemary Ehler, Cameron 4-H had the Reserve Champion gilt.

City Buys Grader, Will Study Salaries

The city council meeting in regular session Tuesday evening awarded a bid for a new grader, and heard a request from radio dispatcher for a salary increase.

The bid was awarded to Galeon for the new grader.

Mrs. Frances Cole, chief radio dispatcher for the police department, came before the council and requested a raise in salary. She cited the many duties dispatchers carry out beside dispatching.

Council discussed the request later and Councilman Lawrence Zolt told the council and Mayor E. A. Perrin that salary increases should be studied for the next budget, or the city would not be able to keep people working here. A comprehensive study will be made of other cities of similar size before the next budget year.

New Wells Drilling

By Lloyd Albertson

Prospects for oil drilling activity in Milam County in 1972 look bright if the way the new year is starting is an indication of things to come.

Late last week information about these events in south Milam's oilfields was released: an Edwards Lime wildcat drilled three months ago is expected to be completed as a good producer; another Edwards wildcat has been scheduled; potential figures have been filed on a recently drilled oilwell; and a New Mexico oil company is moving into the area immediately to begin an extensive drilling campaign.

The Edwards Lime wildcat now in the process of being completed is the No. 1 Blackburn - Trammell drilled last October by W. P. Holloway and J. A. Leonard, two Austin operators. Location is on a 127 acre lease in Smith Vincent Survey in the Milbur Field. The wildcat was drilled to a total depth of 5,940 feet and into the Edwards Lime.

TREMENDOUS PRESSURE

The Blackburn - Trammell appears to be a good well, and storage tanks have been moved in for it. Efforts to complete it, however, have been hampered by a tremendous gas pressure of 1,800 to 2,500 pounds on tubing. Reportedly, a recent attempt to bring it in caused oil to be sprayed all over the drillsite area before it could be shut off. A try to reduce the gas pressure is now said to be under way by the drilling crew.

This is the first time the elusive Edwards formation has been tapped successfully in Milam County. It also opens a third pay zone in the Milbur Field. The other two zones of production are the basal Wilcox, at around 2,600 - 2,900 feet and the Navarro, at 3,400 - 3,700 feet.

Another Edwards Lime wildcat drilled a week or so after the No. 1 Blackburn - Trammell last fall by Holloway and Leonard, their No. H. Coffield, was a failure. Located about three - quarters of a mile east of the Blackburn - Trammell, it was drilled to 5,966 feet and abandoned.

NEW EDWARDS TEST

The new Edwards Lime wildcat scheduled last week will be drilled by Byron Rose, an Austin operator and formerly of Houston. It will be his No. 1 Herald Hood located on a 320 acre lease in John Williams Survey. Permit depth is 6,000 feet and Rose's objective is the Edwards. Drillsite is 2,070 feet southwest of Rose's No. 7 Ray Woods, a Navarro oilwell in the Cherokee Navarro Field near Milano.

The Hood will be Byron Rose's first attempt to drill a deep wildcat, although he has been active in the Cherokee Navarro Field which he opened three years ago, and has drilled ten or a dozen shallow wells producing from the Navarro there -- and no failures.

Potential test figures were filed last week by J. A. Leonard for his No. 1 Perry located in the Milbur Field. They show the well pumped 71 barrels of oil per day on perforations at 3,475 - 506 feet. Production was from the Navarro "B" zone.

OLD DRY HOLE

The well was completed in an old dry hole which General Crude Oil Company drilled to 8,614 feet and abandoned in 1960. It was General Crude's No. 2 Perry. The company's No. 1 Perry, drilled in 1959 as a deep wildcat in search of the Smackover, went to 12,670 feet, and when bottomed in salt, was later plugged back to just below 3,400 feet and completed as a 21 barrel per day oiler in the Navarro.

No attempt was made to salvage the No. 2 failure until Leonard took it over and completed it in the Navarro as a 71 barrel producer.

A large independent company, Mutual Oil Company of Santa Fe, New Mexico, is reported moving into the area immediately with plans to conduct a large scale drilling campaign in the Milbur and Burmil Fields. According to oil patch rumor, the company plans to drill as many as 30 wildcats in the two fields. Mutual reportedly has acquired leases both from landowners and from oil companies and operators on farmouts who have had them since the early days of the field but have never done any drilling.

Cass Says CTCOG Ready To Aid Milam

Charles Cass, executive director of the Central Texas Council of Governments, told Cameron Noon Lions Monday that the Belton based CTCOG stood ready to assist Milam County in applications for state and federal grants and in other economic opportunities.

Cass, introduced by Mayor E. A. Perrin, gave a brief background of CTCOG which includes Bell, Milam, Lampasas, Coryell, Hamilton, Mills and recently San Saba counties. Milam County is listed as a part of CTCOG although the county has not joined the council.

Cass spoke Monday in response to published plans of Milam Commissioners to seek a transfer from CTCOG to Brazos Valley Council. Commissioners had discussed programs available from the two councils and favored Brazos because of OEO programs, similar economic conditions and the established State Highway Dept. district that links the two regions.

Cass told Lions that although CTCOG had previously not had an OEO program, San Saba County (which recently joined CTCOG) did have an OEO financed Community Action Program and that he believed that would be available to the entire council.

Cass listed as advantages for joining CTCOG:

1. Nearness to the central office at Belton;
2. History of communication and cooperation of people in the region;
3. Background of Temple based industry locating in Cameron. He cited as examples Magna Craft and Royal Seating.

Cass pointed out that Cameron, which was a member of CTCOG, had sent three police officers to CTCOG for training and certification and will send two more this year. He also pointed to a $10,000 grant channeled to Milam County through CTCOG to alleviate unemployment. Cameron received $3,500 of this sum.

"The law provides that a county cannot be moved from one council of governments to another except by review of the Governor's office," Cass said. He said this was only done every two years and suggested that Milam County would probably be without a council membership until 1973 under this ruling.

Bill Black, Temple attorney and former Bell County Judge also endorsed the advantages for Milam County in CTCOG at the Lions Club meeting.

Police Nab 3 For Drug Possession, Report Collisions

Cameron police arrested three young men for possession of marijuana Monday, and also charged one of the three with possession of dangerous drugs.

The three were charged in County Court.

Police Chief Felipe Martinez and F. M. Jones, ABC inspector, spotted the trio's car parked on North Rusk with the motor running, and the three asleep in the car. Investigation led to the discovery of the marijuana and drugs.

The men were identified as George Curtis Bazmore III, 21; John George Holloway, 20; and James Joseph Jacobsen, 21, all of Houston.

In other police news, several accidents were investigated. Saturday a car driven by Mrs. Viola Sullivan of Cameron struck a car parked in the Safeway parking lot, shoving it into the building. The car belonged to Johnny Curtis of Cameron. Extensive damage was done to both cars.

There were two accidents Sunday, one at 10:55 a.m. when a car driven by Frances Odstel struck a car driven by Delbert Burlison of Cameron at the intersection of W. 1st and N. Central. No injuries were reported.

Also on Sunday a Mustang belonging to Leland Green Jr., parked in front of his house, was struck by a car driven by Robert Wilton of Cameron.

Tuesday a collision occurred at the intersection of Highway 190 and N. Karnes when cars driven by Claudia Bates Summers of Rockdale and Ben Tepera of Cameron collided. Both were traveling in the same direction.

Non-Populous Politics...

Political observers early in the presidential nomination game, now on in earnest, said Sen. George McGovern, though denying it, was a "stalking horse" for Ted Kennedy.

Well, Senator Kennedy has removed his name from the Florida Democratic primary ballot. His is one of 12 placed on the Florida March 14 ballot.

In recent polls, the Senator held almost 30 percent of the Democratic preference while Senator McGovern was down the line somewhere below 10 percent. The leading Democratic contender is gathering endorsement all over the country, but still does not have the popular following of a Kennedy.

Senator McGovern is from a non-populous state. Front runner Muskie is from a non-populous state. Senator Kennedy by comparison is from a populous state with a balance of a national organization remaining.

It is quite likely that Senator Kennedy means it when he says he will not be a candidate in the 1972 Democratic Convention. McGovern has stalked little but low ratings in the early polls and Muskie is running hard for delegate majority before the convention, not to mention Senators Jackson, McCarthy, Hartke, Humphrey and several others including LA Mayor Sam Yorty and New York Mayor John Lindsay.

The primaries will tell the story or so it would seem. They just might dismantle the leading candidates. And the Senator from Massachusetts will have a lot to do with who is nominated. And if he has really chosen not to run, as would seem most logical, he knows the 1972 Democratic presidential candidate, whoever, has a real problem.

He is the man formerly from California, late of New York, and presently in the White House, an incumbent with two populous states he can call "home" and a tour of world leaders his 1972 opponent will have to explain away.

Show Center Relook?

The growth of the Milam County Livestock Show commands a look, or re-look, at sometime plans a few years ago to build a show center not only for livestock, but for other activities in the Milam area.

Several alternatives in location or building have been suggested.

The important thing is that Milam County has a livestock show which needs a home and there are a lot of activities, like a Yoe High School Rodeo, fall or spring activities like auto shows, all kinds of exhibits which would share in the availability of such a structure.

It would give Cameron and Milam County a year-round center for these things that now must depend on favorable weather elements.

Cameron is removing a lot of buildings, once empty, which were used for smaller shows like poultry, pecan, various demonstrations in agriculture activity.

Many other things which are only talked of could be realized with a "place where" of adequate size, condition and facility.

It is worth a look. If you endured the frosty day last Saturday, you would already have started the hunt.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Too Old to Drive?

As auto accidents go, Mrs. Martin's collision with another car was nothing special. But soon afterward, bad news arrived in the mail.

"Your driver's license has been revoked," said a notice from the Traffic Bureau.

Mrs. Martin, an ardent motorist, decided to put up a fight. Challenging the Traffic Bureau in court, she pointed out that the collision was in no way her fault.

"Even so," countered a Bureau spokesman, "this woman has already passed her 77th birthday. That alone is enough basis for us to revoke her license."

But the court disagreed. Ordering the license restored, the court said advanced years alone are not enough reason to take away a person's right to drive.

Most traffic laws say that officials may revoke the license of anyone unfit to handle a car. But they may not classify a person as unfit without good grounds. Even a physical disability may not be enough to disqualify a driver if the disability can be kept under adequate control.

For example: A man had diabetes. But his condition was such that the possibility of insulin shock was slight. And if shock did occur, it would give him enough warning to allow him to pull over to the curb. A court held that his license could not be revoked.

Another man occasionally suffered from double vision. But he could clear it up instantly just by shutting one eye. His license, too, was held not subject to revocation.

However, a court refused similar help to a woman afflicted by heart trouble, high blood pressure, and partial paralysis on one side. Seeking to have her license restored, she recalled that she had driven for 30 years without an accident.

But the court, noting the very real possibility of sudden trouble, said her good driving in the past was no guarantee against bad driving in the future. As one judge put it:

"The purpose is not punishment of the driver but the protection of the public."

Political Poll Shows Votes Going To Dolph Briscoe

By Bill Boykin

An interesting political poll was taken at the Gulf Coast Press Association's board of directors' meeting in Houston January 8. Fourteen newspaper publishers were asked: "Who do you think will win the 1972 Governor's race in Texas?"

Seven said Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, four named Dolph Briscoe and two listed Gov. Preston Smith.

The same editors were asked about their vote.

Eleven voted for Dolph Briscoe, two for Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and one for Governor Smith.

SENATE CAMPAIGN

The 1972 political campaigns moved into full swing with announcement by former U. S. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough that he would make a comeback try for a Senate seat.

Yarborough, 68, revealed his plans in a series of whirlwind news conferences at Austin, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio. He seeks the Democratic nomination to oppose Republican Sen. John Tower.

Barefoot Sanders of Dallas, already running for the Senate as a Democrat, welcomed onetime political ally Yarborough to the race as "one of our fine senior citizens." He said both Yarborough and Tower "are out of touch with the majority of Texans."

Yarborough said he had never had so successful a campaign opening day. He stressed his nearly 14 years' experience as a progressive senator, and said in answer to questions about his age: "I'll be around campaigning as long hours as anybody else, if not longer."

The former senator's entry took some of the spotlight away from the warming governor's race where Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Uvalde rancher Dolph Briscoe are starting to mix it up.

Five Democratic candidates are moving around the state in the lieutenant governor's race.

Treasurer Jesse James, Comptroller of Public Accounts Robert S. Calvert and Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White during the last week announced for re-election. Calvert and James are expected to draw some opposition.

State Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi announced she is "taking a serious look" at prospects for a gubernatorial race, but has not ruled out challenging Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

SCHOOL DECISION

The State Board of Education voted unanimously to appeal the monumental federal eral court decision that the Texas property tax method of financing schools is unconstitutional.

Meanwhile, the Board assumed responsibility for drafting a new plan for supporting the school system and ordered a task force be formed to do the study job in the event an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court fails.

The state, according to Texas Research League, has several options. One is full state financing, which by 1974 would require an expenditure of a billion dollars a year just to maintain the status quo.

Another alternative is state - local financing that would provide approximately equal resources for each child. The League suggested redrawing district boundaries to redistribute property values or superimposing multi-district taxing regions over present operating districts to provide equalization by regions.

A decision, the League noted, must be made as to whether the goal is educational expenditures at the present level in rich districts or at a lower "average level." The latter would mean reducing the number of teachers and lowering salary supplements in some districts to create more positions and higher salaries in the poor districts.

REPUBLICANS EAGER

Texas Republicans in a recent meeting here boasted of wide-open opportunities in 1972 presidential and U. S. Senate races, for doubled state legislative strength and possible election of a governor.

Scandals in state government and prospects of single - member House (legislative) districts offer the GOP its biggest chance to elect candidates and achieve reform through two - party government, the Republican State Executive Committee was told repeatedly.

The GOP issued verbal invitations to unhappy Democrats and Independents, regardless of political philosophies, to enlist in Republican ranks.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin declared the controversial new code of ethics for state and local officials unconstitutional, and was commended by Governor Smith and Secretary of State Bob Bullock.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

* A school of veterinary and zoological medicine at Texas Tech University can be approved by simple majority vote of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. New and separate institutions require a two - thirds vote of the

Dear editor:

A book-reading friend of mine has spent considerable time lately trying to figure out the great Howard Hughes mystery, whether the biography coming out about him is authentic and whether that was Hughes on the telephone with all those reporters denying he'd ever heard of the man who wrote the book.

What this friend doesn't understand is that the selling of snake oil cuts across all levels of society. Whether you're selling patent medicine from the back of a covered wagon or in front of a T.V. color camera via satellite, the ingredients remain about the same and the percentage of suckers remains unchanged. If you're selling books, the vocabulary of the audience widens but the gullibility percentage remains constant. This is known as the first law of human nature.

According to an article I remember reading in a newspaper a few weeks ago, there were 35,000 different books published in the United States last year, or nearly 100 a day. Since this is many times more than any one person could read in a lifetime even if he didn't watch television, slept very little, and didn't even subscribe to the Cameron Herald, naturally the few books that do get bought in the thousands require some of the selling techniques inherited from the men who sold from the backs of covered wagons.

If the writer who said he interviewed Mr. Hughes in cars all around the country really did, it looks like some fingerprints would have been left somewhere. If Mr. Hughes really wanted to remove all doubt about his denying the interviews took place, all he'd have had to do was speak via television or in person instead of by telephone.

I don't usually get off on such literary topics as this, and for all I know everything may be on the up-and-up in this matter, but it is well to remember that flim-flam-mery is an ancient art not limited to politics and international affairs, and the more advanced man becomes the better it works.

Where can I get hold of a copy of this Hughes book?

Yours faithfully,

GI Bill Enrollments On Increase

School enrollments under the GI Bill continued their upward trend in November, scoring a 22 percent hike over November 1970, Jack Coker, Director of the Waco VA Regional Office, reported today.

Coker said 1,181,000 veterans and servicemen trained in November this year compared to 971,000 in November last year.

Of those in training in this November, 737,000 were in college, a 25 percent increase over a year ago.

The 354,000 veterans and servicemen in training in November below the college level were 19 percent more than for the same month last year, Coker noted.

On-the-job training edged up to 91,000 in November, a 7 percent increase over the 84,500 in training in November 1970.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

"Nearly new nationally-advised brand zig-zag sewing machine for $24.95."

"Complete brake job for $15.00."

"Four rooms of furniture for $199.95."

Do the above "eye catchers" sound familiar? Most consumers at one time or another have responded to such advertisements, often hurrying to get there so they can take advantage of the tremendous offer before the merchant's supply of the product is exhausted.

Many times these consumers are met with a constant belittling of the advertised product and are purposely switched to another more costly product by a smooth talking salesman.

Other times that are told the item is sold out even though the ad says the sale is good for three days and the store has only been open for ten minutes on the first day. They just happen to have a similar item, however, at a higher price. What a disappointing experience for the consumers who alertly see through the sales gimmick, and how tragic for those consumers who do not!

"Bait and Switch" advertising is prohibited by both Federal and State law. "Bait and Switch" is a practice whereby an offer is made not in order to sell the advertised product at the advertised price, but rather to draw consumers to the store to sell them another similar product which is more profitable to the advertiser.

The merchant is even unwilling at times to sell his "bait" item to the customer. It is not unusual for a merchant who engages in such tactics to actually fine his salesman if the advertised merchandise is sold.

Remember that merchants are operating their business to make a profit, and they cannot afford to give away their merchandise. Certainly not all merchants engage in the "Bait and Switch" form of advertising. There are numerous specials and other sales run each day that are bona fide, and they do not fall within the "Bait and Switch" practice.

However, when an ad is just too eye catching to be true, you should carefully analyze it and then scrutinize the salesman's presentation. Don't be victimized by the "Bait and Switch" salesman! Be an Informed Consumer!

Whenever you discover a business which engages in "Bait and Switch" advertising, be sure to notify Attorney General Crawford C.

Martin, Attorney General of Texas, P. O. Box 12548, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. By doing so you will help us protect others who are unaware of this advertising gimmick.

Egg Producers To Meet Here

By Bill McCutcheon

The Milam County Poultry Sub-committee has scheduled a meeting for January 20th at 7:00 p.m. in the meeting room of the First National Bank in Cameron.

Dr. Fred Thornberry, Poultry Specialist and Marshall Miller, Poultry Marketing specialist, both with the Agricultural Extension Service will present the program. Thornberry was asked to speak on pollution and nuisance problems and Miller will speak on egg breakage and egg quality maintenance.

The program is specifically designed for Milam County egg producers, but is open to anyone who is interested.

GRAIN COMES BACK

Reports from over the county indicate that the freeze damage on small grain pastures was not as severe as was first feared.

The Triticale, which was hardest hit by the freeze, is coming back. Oat pastures are showing green again and a few days of warm weather should put most small grain pastures back in good condition.

Small grain grazing had been the best in the last several years prior to the freeze.

GRASS TETANY

Grass tetany has been causing considerable cattle loss in Milam County recently, according to Dr. Tittsworth. The condition is most prevalent on lush pastures.

Tittsworth said the grass tetany is due to shortage of magnesium intake in the diet. Magnesium cannot be stored in the body and must be injected daily.

Grass tetany is usually seen first in cows with calves at their side. First symptoms are unusual excitement, incoordination and loss of appetite. Violentness, staggering and falling come later. The animal may grind its teeth and salivate profusely.

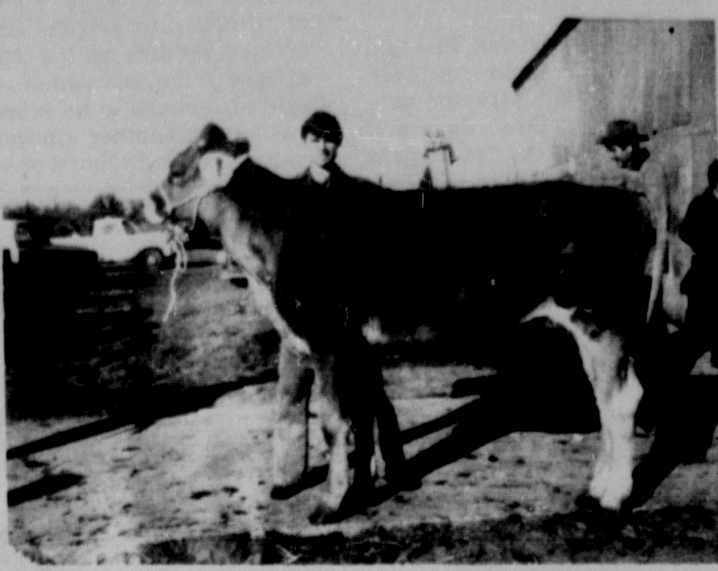

General tetanic contractions of the muscles follow until the animal reaches a state of prostration. Labored breathing is followed by coma.

The chance of recovery is slight if treatment is not started before coma. Magnesium and phosphorus fortified calcium gluconate injected intravenously usually results in quick recovery.

Glaser's Farms Models Of Environment Improvement

The Directors of the Central Texas Soil and Water Conservation District needed to look no further than Joe Glaser of Buckholts for their nominee for Environmental Improvement Individual.

This is a new category that has been added to the 1972 Texas Conservation Awards Program. It is awarded to an individual for the most outstanding accomplishment or promotion of environmental improvement in Texas.

Glaser has been outstanding for many years in his efforts to improve the environment. He is a great promoter in this area, and his accomplishments are proof that he practices what he preaches.

The Glaser's farms near Buckholts are show places that demonstrate how land can be used intensively and at the same time show how man can fit into the environment to provide a better place for all.

Joe has built lakes and ponds that cover over ten per cent of his land area. These structures prevent erosion and provide water for livestock, wildlife, and recreation. Each acre of pastureland is covered with grass or native vegetation. All of his land is managed to provide crops, livestock, forage, and wildlife habitat.

His farming operation is diverse with many intense farming enterprises such as cattle feeding, hog feeding, catfish farming, and laying hens. These are large operations and all are managed with little or no pollution to the environment.

Joe is not only known locally, but he is acknowledged throughout the state and nation for his efforts. When Congressman Bob Poage brought his Congressional Agricultural Committee to tour the Glaser farms, he stated that his accomplishments would compare with any in the nation.

Cotton Root Rot Can Be Controlled

COLLEGE STATION Cotton farmers throughout much of the state must contend with cotton root rot each year. But through certain management practices, the disease can be controlled or at least reduced.

"Deep plowing, early planting and crop rotation all help reduce cotton root rot," says Dr. Walter Walla, plant pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Deep plowing is one of the oldest practices for reducing the disease and is most effective following harvest. Using a mold board plow at a rapid pace will invert the plow layer and expose the disease-causing fungus to the air.

Early planting is especially effective in certain areas of the state, points out Walla. If a crop can be matured in the Blacklands by the middle of July, it will escape most of the damage from cotton root rot.

Rotating cotton with grain sorghum and oats will also help reduce the disease, adds the plant pathologist. Crop rotation is especially effective when combined with deep plowing of crop residues.

The culprit causing the cotton disease is a fungus that lives in the soil. It can survive for long periods and grows on cotton or other susceptible crops when they are planted in an infested area. According to Walla, once the fungus begins to grow, it sends strands toward the soil surface which attack plants at the ground line. The plants are girdled and die rapidly.

"Proper management practices will help fight cotton root rot so that the crop can be economically grown," stressed Walla.

Navy Pay Increased Benefits Outlined

Young men and women now enlisting in the U. S. Navy receive over 100 percent more pay each month than they were receiving. This is due to the largest military pay raise in history of $2.9 billion and the January pay raise of 7.2 percent.

While attending recruit training at either Great Lakes, Illinois, Orland, Fla., or San Diego, Calif., a young man will receive $288 each month, compared to $134.40 formerly paid.

Upon completion of recruit training, he will automatically receive an additional $22.70 per month.

ASCS NEWS

The recently announced change in sign-up dates for 1972 set-aside farm programs allows time for consideration of the first available data on producers' plans for 1972, according to the local farm program official.

"My understanding is that the U. S. Department of Agriculture wants to provide time for both farmers and farm program officials to study the special farmers planting intentions report which is due January 27.

"So the sign-up period for the feed grain, wheat, and cotton set-aside programs will be February 3 through March 10 instead of January 17 through February 25 as was first announced," he said.

"Many farmers are asking if these new sign-up dates mean program changes are in the offing. I don't think anybody yet knows. The planting intentions report will be carefully studied and evaluated. I suppose there is a possibility that unforeseen factors will show up," added Hugo Fuchs, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The special planting intentions report on January 27 will be the first indication on a national scale of what farmers are planning for 1972 in the light of 1971 crop marketings.

In 1971, under a corn blight threat which didn't materialize, farmers planted and harvested a record corn crop. Wheat and feed grain production wasn't far behind and for farmers who had to sell at harvest, prices were too low. On the other hand, market competition for cotton and soybeans has resulted in good prices for farmers.

The 1972 set-aside program provisions announced by USDA are designed to help American agriculture cut back on the acreage planted to all crops and to encourage farmers to produce those crops which best fit their farming operations. The aid is to increase farm income through the markets as well as protect farm income by making crop loans and set-aside acreage payments available to program participants.

Participation in the set-aside programs is voluntary, and February 3 through March 10 is the period when farmers sign up at ASCS County Offices for participation.

Paul Chandler is one of 1200 scholarship recipients for the 1971-72 school year at Abilene Christian College.

Chandler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Chandler, Cameron. A 1968 graduate of Yoe High School, he is a senior social work major at ACC. He is also a 3-year track letterman and has been on the dean's honor roll.

Scholarships are awarded on a basis of academic achievement, ability, character and need.

Hiway Dept. Organizes New Sections

AUSTIN A reorganization of the Texas Highway Department's Highway Design Division has placed added emphasis on two important factors in transportation planning -- mass transit and the environment.

State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall today announced the establishment of a Geometric and Environmental Design Section and an Urban Transportation and Mass Transit Planning Section.

"The increased importance of environmental matters and our recognition of the possibility that the movement of persons by private vehicles in some larger urban areas must be supplemented by mass transit have prompted establishment of the two new sections," Dingwall said.

Candidate Proposes Code

State Senator Joe Christie, candidate for lieutenant governor, Monday said he has signed the Code of Fair Campaign Practices and proposed a similar code for all Texas political candidates.

"If we're going to put teeth in a public officials' conduct code, let's put them in the campaign because it's during the political season that a candidate's ethics are really tested," he said.

The seven-part code, administered by the highly-respected 22-year-old Fair Campaign Practices Committee, binds candidates to ethical conduct in political campaigns and prohibits the use of unfair tactics and distortion.

Christie also renewed his call for other candidates for statewide office to follow suit by signing the code.

Conference To Outline Waste Plan

"Stashing the Trash" will be the subject of a presen-tation at the 14th Annual County Judges and Commis-sioners Conference, Febru-ary 9-10, at Texas A&M University.

The presentation concerns the story of a plan for county-wide solid waste disposal de-veloped in Polk County. The county recently won a $10,000 award for being the first East Texas county to succeed in developing a workable solid waste plan, says Charles E. Lawrence, county officials program spe-cialist with the Extension Service. Lawrence is gen-eral chairman of the con-ference.

Participants in the panel discussion will include Polk County Judge Peyton Wal-ters along with members of the Polk County Commis-sioners' Court. Carson E. Watt, Extension area re-souce development special-ist, will also participate in the discussion.

According to Lawrence, solid waste disposal is in-creasingly becoming one of the most pressing problems confronting county govern-ment today.

The annual conference is sponsored by the Texas Ag-ricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the State County Judges and Commis-sioners Association. More than 600 county officials are expected to attend.

at the First Baptist Church in Cameron.

Filmed in Eastmancolor, "Lost Generation" utilizes multiple screen images and a probing documentary style to investigate attitudes on dissent, violence, the mood of America, and the answers that can be found by this generation as they face the decisions of life.

According to Rev. J. E. Lafferty, pastor of the church, the opinions of both young and old, urban and rural, rich and poor, are brought to the screen as the camera focuses on people of various backgrounds throughout the Nation.

Location shots were filmed in Alaska, the Southern states, on the farms and in the small towns of mid-America, and in the dying Haight-Ashbury hippie district of San Francisco.

The feature-length film, which includes special ap-pearances by Billy Graham, Art Linkletter, and Jack Webb, was described by one reviewer as a "moving film that calls on us to make a decision about how much we want to get involved in the troubles of our times. It is a relevant story that de-mands our immediate atten-tion."

"Lost Generation" will be shown once at 7:30 p.m., with no admission charge. The public is cordially in- vited.

Here's the population explosion in personal terms. To the proud parents, it's their first child — and they love her! But to the statisticians, who deal only with cold facts, she's just one more person on an already crowded earth.

What a dilemma! We want chil-dren, but we want them to face a secure future. When almost no one is optimistic about the present, how can anyone look forward to the fu-ture?

Other generations have faced mo-mentous problems, too. Yet, with God's help, they surmounted them.

And God — if we turn to His Church — will do the same for us!

Roles Varied For Closets

Specialized storage closets, for linens or cleaning equipment and supplies, should be located close to areas served and often can be built in spaces too small to accommodate full-size closets.

A linen closet should be as close as possible to bedrooms, but smaller closets could be added in bathrooms for towels and wash cloths, and in dining room or kitchen for table linens.

Door openings should be eight feet high and about as wide as the closet, to allow storage all the way to the ceiling and for easy access on the sides. Ideal linen shelf depth is 12 to 16 inches, about the width of two 1x8-inch western pine boards.

No single location for a cleaning closet is convenient to all areas of the house, so it may be best to split this storage.

A floor-to-ceiling cabinet about 12 inches deep (depending on bulk of vacuum cleaner) and three feet wide should be sufficient, with upper third devoted to shelves.

Room Bonus In Basement

Adding living space in a basement calls for a light color scheme and rich-looking materials to avoid creating a subterranean atmosphere.

Many decorators recommend sun colors, even for daylight basements, to make them look warmly hospitable. One approach is to panel the walls with solid lumber, choosing a light-toned wood like western pine or hemlock.

Installed vertically, the boards will give the effect of pushing the ceiling higher and light-colored ceiling and floor will add to this feeling. Storage and other built-ins can be clad with the matching paneling for a custom touch.

Unightly furnaces and other appliances can be hidden with an enclosure of the same material, and using a solid panel door helps baffle noise, lends richness to the area at little extra cost.

A long window area with slanted skylights over planter space brightens a basement room. High ground-level windows can be given a "deeper" look by adding louvered wood shutters below and "open" shutters at the sides.

Builder Prefers Wood In Pools

One Northeastern manufacturer of in-ground swimming pools has built over 700 pools of pressure-treated wood with vinyl covering, plus pools of steel or concrete in the last seven years.

The builder prefers the wood pools and offers a 20-year warranty, based on knowledge the walls won't react with the vinyl and that there is no settling and cracking problem.

The wood pools also offer design flexibility, and shop fabrication reduces site construction time and labor costs.

Are you going to live longer than your money?

Maybe you're having a pretty good life now. Your credit is good, you've got a few nice clothes and a good dependable car. And if you're lucky, maybe you own your own home. But that's because you're working. What happens when you retire? You can't live on memories. It's still going to take money. Lots of money. Money that you should be saving now.

And one of the easiest ways to start putting away a few dollars for those retirement years is by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

That way every time you earn a little money for today, you save a little for tomorrow.

Then when the time finally comes to retire, you'll have something put away to retire to.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Family Illness

The impact on families which suffered a mental illness years ago and families in which a spouse is presently ill will be studied by a scientist who pioneered in the first systematic research of this kind.

A grant from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare's National Institute of Mental Health has been awarded to the researcher, Dr. John A. Clausen of the University of California at Berkeley, to initiate a four-year project which will follow up and extend his earlier work.

Three groups of families in which either a husband or a wife has been hospitalized for a serious mental illness will be studied.

One group consists of families in which one spouse was hospitalized for mental illness some 10 to 15 years ago. In the current followup, it is hoped to learn how many families are still intact, how well the former mental patients have adjusted, and how the family adapted over the long run to the mental illness.

The second study will involve two groups: one on the east coast and another on the west coast.

The families on the west coast include some which figured in previous studies employing Dr. Clausen's techniques.

He believes that by studying the new patients and the impact of their illness on their families he will be able to assess what changes, if any, have taken place in the past several years in light of the modernization and wider availability of mental health services.

Dr. Clausen hopes to determine how these changes have influenced the process of identifying mental illness and family adaptation to mental illness.

One change he has observed is that persons hospitalized now are more severely ill than were patients hospitalized prior to the 1950's when drugs were introduced for the treatment of mental illness.

His new studies will include some patients who are hospitalized and some who are receiving outpatient treatment today, but who might have been hospitalized years ago for mental illness.

Example of expertness: I, Frederick Griffin, filled out a 1970, 1040 form for a couple with a total of eight exemptions for which I computed a $120.00 refund, but the Internal Revenue Center at Austin, Texas mailed a correction statement on the said form and stated the refund in essence should be $0.00. I rechecked my computations and the tax tables and then wrote the Internal Revenue Center with the said couple getting a copy, stating that "either your punch card operator punched a seven for seven exemptions instead of an eight for eight exemptions or your computer has a compiler error. In several weeks, the Internal Revenue Center mailed a correction statement, on their corrected statement was the refund for $120.00.
